The family company Casa Italia A/S was founded in 1995 by Denis Terrida, and has now been existing for almost 25 years under different names. With a background as a chef, Denis came to Denmark in October 1976, and started a career within the restaurant business, which later led him to start Denmark's first production of fresh pasta. He was quickly bought up by the currently Orkla-owned Pastella, and continued in the world of Italian ingredients, with focus on developing Italian pasta and bread in Scandinavia.

Early in the process, Denis' wife, Marianne Terrida and the son David joined the company. With a background as a laboratory technician, Marianne has a perfect background to handle all documentation and quality control, which is demanded to deliver to the largest producers bread, cakes and pasta producers in Scandinavia. David was also early a part of the administrative parts of the company, and with his organizational talent, he has helped Casa Italia to grow to the size it has today. Moreover, Daniele Terrida is also an active part of the company, and is responsible for Export and Marketing. PRODUCTION

Producer of Scrocchiarella

Mamma Production was founded as a production company in 2017, with the single purpose to produce Scrocchiarella. As a response to an increasing demand for Frozen Scrocchiarella, the Terrida family chose to start the world's largest production, dedicated only to Scrocchiarella.

As Scrocchiarella is a complex bakery product to handle, due to the high water content in the dough, and the large attention needed to handle the dough, it has been necessary always to keep the finished result as the single most important parameter. Every single process, is carefully studied and planned to obtain the best possible result from the dough.

This means that we are exclusively baking with the best ingredients from Italy, and there is a personal touch on every single bread, as everything is handmade in Mamma Production. We use a combination of innovative machines and good old craftsmanship to reach the best quality. We do not compromise on quality!
